

International IP Crime Investigators College (IIPCIC)

An INTERPOL initiative in cooperation with Underwriters Laboratories (UL)

IIPCIC

- IIPCIC is a joint initiative between INTERPOL and Underwriters Laboratories Inc. (UL).
- The mission of IIPCIC is to deliver online, leading edge training to IP investigators around the world, to effectively combat current and emerging threats from transnational organized IP Crime.

Global Reach

- Delivered on a multilingual platform to over 12,000 registered learners who represent 156 countries.
- Over 10,000 police and customs officers are enrolled and represent over 400 global, law enforcement organizations
- Courses offered in 5 languages: English, Spanish, French, Arabic Mandarin and Portuguese (2016).

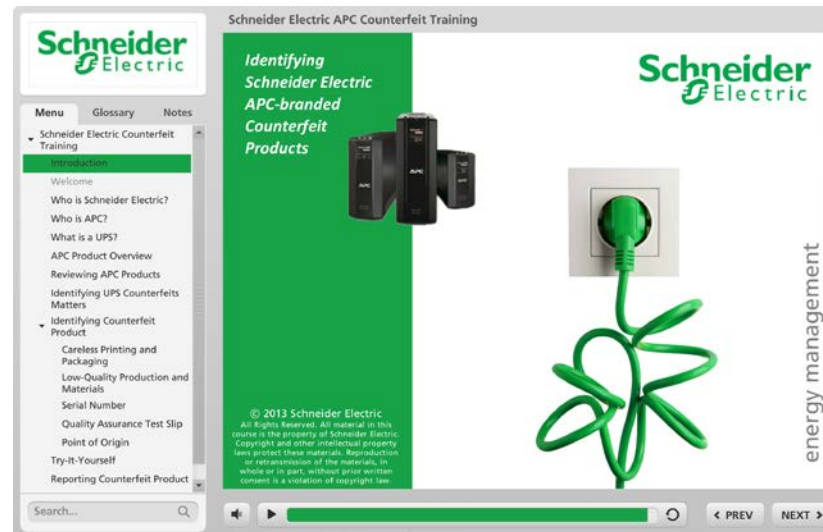

IIPCIC Training and Certificate Program

All law enforcement IP crime investigators including police officers, customs or appropriate regulatory body representatives are able to take the training free of charge.

- The private sector can also create and deliver customized training courses about their brands to global law enforcement officials via our Private Sector Curriculum for Law Enforcement.
- These courses are securely delivered to our law enforcement learners via the IIPCIC platform at no cost to law enforcement.

Please visit iipcic.org to register for training or view a sample course.

For more information on any of the information you have heard today please contact Monica Mena, Global IIPCIC Operations Manager at Monica.Mena@ul.com.

UL Tests on counterfeit adapters/chargers 2016

- 400 adapters/chargers
- Purchased in 8 countries (Globally)
- Electric Strength Test and Touch Current Test
- 397 failed = 99% failure rate
- 12 had potential to cause electrocution
- Test Equipment Damaged

Thank you.

Eamon O'Grady
Director Global Security
eamon.ogrady@ul.com